

Stratosphere

Mutemath

Walking on air, living in the Stratosphere
Still there's something wrong up here
Living without you
I don't have a care running round the stratosphere
But it's awfully lonely here
Running without you

Sitting high on top the world was
All I ever wanted
But now I see it wasn't worth the casualty I suffered
In this dark sky

I never meant to have to start all over
Start all over without you

Drifting out alone, lying in the
Stratosphere
Wishing I was anywhere else
Lying next to you

There's nothing in this galaxy holding
My attention
The sun has lost it's gravity and severed my Connection
To the starlight

I never meant to have to start all over
Start all over without you, without you
