

I'm mashing buttons watch the wall begin to glow
Sinking fast upon a ship
That was never meant to float
You're flying to the penthouse
You see stars and steal the moon
You don't deserve her
You don't get her like I do
Like I do

You don't get her
Cause you're you

I'm living through the process
You get to sit and watch it
My back's so bent its broken
And you're too man to notice

I've been praying to a god I haven't met
I think the walls are closing in
I think the ceiling hit my head
I look for an escape
But my stomach starts to ache
And I know it's not at all
But it feels like it's my fault

It's my fault
Taking any space at all

I'm living through the process
You get to sit and watch it
My back's so bent its broken
And you're too man to notice
