The trees look cold
All the leaves fell off
Maybe I should give them my sweater
The flowers say hey
"Where's the sun today?"
As if I determine the weather

Yeah, the world's got its worries
Life's got us all in a hurry
Stuck on a loop overthinking all of our pain

It's okay to frown, smile upside-down
Feeling kinda blue like the sky right now
No way, not gonna work it out
It's a feeling that I'm having and I'll have it right now
It comes and goes away
In time, my scars will fade
The look that's on my face is temporarily upside-down
It's okay to frown

Cruisin' on a cloud like an ocean wave
Don't feel bad, but the better
Fallin' to the ground like November rain
Sinkin' like a brick, but I'm light as a feather

The world's got its worries
Life's got us all in a hurry
Stuck on a loop overthinking all of our pain

It's okay to frown, smile upside-down
Feeling kinda blue like the sky right now
No way, not gonna work it out
It's a feeling that I'm having and I'll have it right now
It comes and goes away
In time, my scars will fade
The look that's on my face is temporarily upside-down
It's okay to frown

I, I'll be just fine
Don't pay my mind
I'm just temporarily upside-down

Good morning
The weather forecast today is showing a slight chance of sunshine and sadness
It's another perfect day to not feel that perfect

It's okay to frown, smile upside-down
Feelin' kinda blue like the sky right now
No way, not gonna work it out
It's a feeling that I'm having and I'll have it right now
It comes and goes away
In time, my scars will fade
The look that's on my face is temporarily upside-down
It's okay to frown
