

walk but in a garden

mxmtoon

The days are drifting slowly by
I guess I'll be here till July
I find it hard to have no answers
But the thought of us can make the time go by

We could walk but in garden
We could talk while at the market
Taking moments of our days to be alone
And while we don't have all the answers
We still know what truly matters
Keeping hope alive despite the darkest storm

The days are drifting slowly by
I guess I'll be here till July
I find it hard to have no answers
But the thought of us can make the time go by Yeah the thought of us can make the time go by Yeah the thought of us can make the time go by
