

Make me an offer I can't refuse
Send in an angel and bring 'em more booze
Even for hearts get the blues
That's our way, win or lose

So many distractions, so little time
Go with that urge to sit back and recline
When the sunset turns red we drink wine
Dance all night, lose our mind

Here's to the best life, here's to you
This and the next world, divided in two
Here's to the loved ones, and friends we once knew
May the cup never empty, your heart never bruise to blue

Raise that glass in your hand
Shake that ass to the beat of the band
Drinking whiskey in a bar with your friends
Ain't that great, ain't that grand

Here's to the best life, here's to you
This and the next world, divided in two
Here's to the loved ones, and friends we once knew
May the cup never empty, your heart never bruise to blue

Some day we'll be down in the ground while our families weep
And don't let [?] let up we must not fall asleep

Make me an offer I can't refuse
Send down an angel and bring em more booze
Even for hearts get the blues
That's our way, win or lose

Here's to the best life, here's to you
This and the next world, divided in two
Here's to the loved ones, and friends we once knew
May your cup never empty, your heart never bruise to blue
May your cup never empty, your heart never bruise to blue
May your cup never empty, your heart never bruise to blue
