I Never Could Get Enough

My Morning Jacket

I eat from the palm of your hand
Asleep on my shoulder, your cheek against my chest
My heart pumps away for your loving touch
You know I never, I never could get enough

I drink from your warm, loving cup
And visions of Heaven do overflow
I long for your sweet, sweet lover's touch
You know I never, I never could get enough
You know I never, I never could get enough

At the end of each night comes the day
And when I awake
Oh, how much I want you

Everything you touch turns to love
On Earth you're an answer from above
If I falter, if strengths falls from my hand
With patience you listen, you understand

I long for your sweet, sweet lover's touch
Oh, you know I never, never could get enough
Oh, you know I never, never could get enough

I live for your sweet, sweet lover's touch
Oh, you know I never, never could get enough
Oh, you know I never, never could get enough
Oh, you know I never, never could get enough
