All is red now

Blue The color was for you Despite none of your eyes being blue Just like the ocean When it's green Full of gasoline I saw you grin at me Your smiles I can't believe in Understand The dress was white It needed to be white And I hope you understand why I needed sex and alcohol Cause when I fell, I fell in Black. A big black inner hole I didn't even see the sides The light in the end was so far And it was Red All is red now The sky is red, the water is red, All is red now The grass is red, the stone is red, the sand is red, All is red now My hands are red, my feet are red, my hair is red, my eyes are red, All is red now Yellow Sweet and dangerous yellow Did I wear the color of shame ? Could I just swallow all this rain ? Purple was the rain. And what's the purpose of this lane ? Will I be insane again ? And find our home empy ? Empty like my brain. Empty cause I'm the idiot of this train Idiocy is my pride, cause I forgive I forgive the unforgiven I give more than I get And with a single black pen, I paint in color I paint in red Red All is red now The sky is red, the water is red, All is red now The grass is red, the stone is red, the sand is red,

My hands are red, my feet are red, my hair is red, my eyes are red,  ${\tt All}$  is red now

Now
We are travelling
Inside
Out of our minds
Now
We are travelling
So far
Away from home

The dress was white. It needed to be white
