

Turning Stones

Myles Kennedy

Searching in the distance
For a promise yet to come
My fortitude is fading
How much longer can I run
Turning stones
To see what I can find

Memories are breaking
Like the shore against the sea
Every night, I'm aching
For the way things used to be
I can't let go
But still, I have to try
I'm turning stones
To see what I can find

Though, I haven't found a glimmer or a reason
To believe we'll be all right
Even in the darkest season
There's a ray of hope where shadows cannot shine
Where shadows only die

I'm leaving every ghost
And every spirit in the past
I'm gonna find new meaning
And redemption that will last
This I hope
The wounds will heal in time
I'm turning stones
To see what I might find

Though, I haven't found a glimmer or a reason
To believe we'll be all right
Even in the darkest season
There's a ray of hope where shadows cannot shine

Praying for the answers
To a God I've never seen
My aching turns to anger
From a whisper to a scream
I must let go
If only to survive
I'm turning stones
To see what I can find
I'm turning stones
To leave the past behind
