Looking for Something Else

Mystery

Caught in the whirlwind of time
Watching the night sky
Searching for something
Sowing new dreams in our mind
Deceiving our freewill
Waiting for someone else

For thousands of years
The world has longed for something to believe in
Forging faith into fear
Dividing souls, leading to a dead end road

Looking for something else
Looking for something else
Looking for something else

Watching the world go round and round
And crumbling down
Wasting your given precious time
Waiting for something else

What's with the clouds in the sky?
Does anybody know?
Does anybody know?

What's with the moon in the night
Does anybody know?
Does anybody know?

What brings the wind in the fields?
Does anybody know?
Does anybody know?

The bell tower's silence's unreal
Does anybody feel?
Does anybody fear?

What's wrong with our children's smiles?
Does anybody know?
Does anybody know?

How strange the tears in their eyes
Does anybody care?
Does anybody care?

What brings this wind from the East?
Does anybody know?
Does anybody know?

Inviting our souls to the feast?
Does anybody go?
Is it time to go?

While all the rivers run dry
No one seems to care?
No one really cares?

With no more tears left to cry
Now everybody knows
And everybody cares
