

When Demons Return

Mystic Prophecy

Death and torture is my name
Decadence, deceit and lies
Blackened skies cracked with the storm
And soon the seven seals will be broken
And the prophecy comes to pass

The angels are burning in the sky
And the gates of hell will open forever

Now the demons coming in your dreams
And take you away in other worlds

The night, see the darkness falling over you
When demons return
The night, hear the darkness calling for you
When demons return

Crying out in vain, pleading for your pain
Your darkest hour has come
Now I stand for you
And the vengeance is mine
Now you're burning forever

Now the demons coming in your dreams
And take you away in other worlds

The night, see the darkness falling over you
When demons return
The night, hear the darkness calling for you
When demons return
