

You

Nabiha

It's amazing how you don't know me
You fake a smile and think that I won't see
How do you think it makes you look?
I'm reading you like an open book
The way you talk is like you've not been told
An honest word is worth its weight in gold
And with vanity pulling down your blinds
You don't even see, you've closed your eyes

It's all about you... you... you.... x2

To escape the feel of being outdone
You mock a line and then you jump the gun
Easy as when you blink your eye
I don't know how you sleep at night

It's all about you... you... you....
All about you... you... you....

And I wonder you're ever gonna change... yeah

It's all about you... all about you...

And I wonder you're ever gonna change...
And I wonder you're ever gonna change... yeah

You won't gonna change your ways right now
Maybe it won't be long
I'm hoping it will, but I worry it won't
You're not gonna change your ways right now
It's got to come undone
I worry it will, but I'm hoping it won't

You... All about you....