

do you still wanna carry me

Nadhif Basalamah

Things are far from what they seem
Do you still wanna carry me?
Guess, we are running out of patience
Times right now ask for attention

Lay by, take your time
Well, I would cry and sort this out
Do you still wanna carry me?

It's getting clearer you don't want me around
That's alright
That's alright
I try to compromise, treating this like we've never been here before
Been here before

Somehow I know this will end
Do we still have to run and pretend?
Now it's felt harder than before
Knowing that what we had once is over

Fake smile, forced laugh
Always breaking the both of us
Do you still wanna carry me?

It's getting clearer you don't want me around
That's alright (that's alright)
That's alright (that's alright)
I try to compromise, treating this like we've never been here before
Been here before

Oh (that's alright, that's alright)
Oh
Ah, ah (that's alright, that's alright), oh

I feel so empty
It sees right through me
Now it's when you kiss and tell me
I missed you
Please sing me to sleep, don't go
For you're not there anymore

I feel so empty
It sees right through me
Now it's when you kiss and tell me

I feel so empty
It sees right through me
Now it's when you kiss and tell me
(That's alright)

Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep, no more
Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep, don't go

Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep, no more
Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep
Tell me to sing you to sleep, don't go

That's alright
