

Cannibal

Naethan Apollo

I'm a little bit obsessive
I need to learn my lesson
My kindness is a weapon
A weapon that you turned on me
Still, you leave me guessin'
'Cause you're so iridescent
You show the world a smile
But show your true colors to me
Think I got the message
Thought our love was destined
But it's more like a death wish
A guarantee for misery
Time for my confession
You're toxic, but infectious
You feed off my attention
Well, starve

You won't eat me
You hungry, hungry cannibal
I never feed the animals
You won't eat me
You hungry, hungry cannibal
I never feed the animals

Tell me when to drink
Tell me when to eat
Tell me when to smile
Tell me when to breathe
Tell me when I overreact
No, tell me again, please
I love being told what to do
But only when I'm told by you
At least, that's what I used to think
But nowadays, I'm on the brink
I'm no longer blind
I've opened my eyes
To see you as you are
A cannibal disguised
You eat away at me
You chew my heart and mind
But now, I'm off the menu
Find someone else to dine

You won't eat me
You hungry, hungry cannibal
I never feed the animals
You won't eat me
You hungry, hungry cannibal
You won't eat me
You hungry, hungry cannibal
You won't eat me
