

My World

Naethan Apollo

Never question, never learn
Never spoken out of turn
When you tell me what to do
I obey and say "Yes sir"
One day I'll speak with my own words
(Till then, you're in my world)
But I already did it
I did everything that you wanted me to
So when will it finish?
When will I be enough for you?
I will never be enough for you
(Till then, you're in my world)

Your love was double-sided, my heart was double-crossed
The young are so short-sighted, you knew that all along
And yet without you I feel lost
(Till then, you're in my world)
And I have spent so long in this world of yours
Walking on your path, stepping through your doors
No more
(I won't stay in your world)
