

Run Away

Naethan Apollo

I was never one to run away, run away from my mistakes
Tell me which way will you face when life comes at you today?
Face the front or face the back, it will fuck you either way
Either way
Okay!

And there's no reason for you to be so emotional
You need the lock and I'm afraid that's non-negotiable
Quit acting that your life is not a life in your control
Don't care what you've been told, nothing's impossible
And we could reason it's okay!
You go dancing on a grave
Say the things you wanna say!
Punch your father in the face
Do the things you gotta do!
In this life to make it through
And we'll make it through
Cause

I was never one to run away, run away from my mistakes
Tell me which way will you face when life comes at you today?
Face the front or face the back, it will fuck you either way
Either way
Okay!

Ain't that somethin? Ain't that sick?
It's a real bad habit you just can't kick
You always look down, you never look in
You never look out, cause the world's too grim, right? (Right)
Best give in, right? (Right)
I thought that you said you wanted to win
I might pick a fight

And I don't need another motive, you just pissed me off
I work too hard to go get treated like a fucking dog
So give your best to me or best believe I'll cut you off
And I'll cut you off
Cause

I was never one to run away, run away from my mistakes
Tell me which way will you face when life comes at you today?
Face the front or face the back, it will fuck you either way
Either way
Okay!