You think you're so sophisticated With your lady-like ways
Your life is so complicated
Do you remember the days?
Looking through

You're looking through the eyes of a child You see what you believe. Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.

I remember all the things you hated All the two-faced lies The people that smiled and cheated Looking back on your life You're looking through

You're looking through the eyes of a child You see what you believe. Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.

Act like a lady Subscribe to all the magazines Cry like a baby At all that you have seen

Through the eyes of a child

You think you're so sophisticated With your lady-like ways
Your life is so complicated
Do you remember the days?
Looking through

You're looking through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.
Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.
Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.
Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.
Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe.
Through the eyes of a child

Through the eyes of a child