

Future In a Photograph

Naked Eyes

It's bad in my heart and I just can't say no (I can't say no)
I remember the part where you kissed me, hello (hello, hello)
You're loving the camera, you're singing your melody
Looks like I just can't say no

Beautiful make-believe
You're wearing flowers in your head
And your eyes so green and clear
So green and clear
You're drinking jasmine tea
You lift the veils of mystery

It's bad in my heart and I just can't say no (I can't say no)
I remember the part where you kissed me, hello (hello, hello)
You're loving the camera, you're singing your melody
Looks like I just can't say no

When I ran into you, I
Didn't know what I would do, I
Put my arms around you, as we
Headed for the door
And as we kissed, it seemed that
There was little risk involved but
Suddenly the lights went out
And I'm not holding you, I'm holding on

It's bad in my heart and I just can't say no (I can't say no)
I remember the part where you kissed me, hello (hello, hello)
You're loving the camera, you're singing your melody
Looks like I just can't say no, hello, hello
Water looks like I just can't say no, hello, hello (hello)
Hello, hello, I can't say no
Hello, hello
