

Drawing Lines

Nana Grizol

We're always making promises we know we can't afford to keep Like we're sowing seeds we have no clue how to reap
At the end of the night you're always just so drunk you just wa nna sleep
Well do you think I oughta find something new or lay here count ing sheep?

We're always drawing lines as our fists raise up and fall down
We draw lines through the center of downtown
We know we're forming a battle plan, you say we're on the defen sive now
I've always loved the thought of watching empires burn to the g round (Burn to the ground)
