

Another Life

Naomi Sharon

In another life, in another life
In another life, where time flies by
I shed my tears, every night

My heart is aching (Mm)
I promised myself I wouldn't break it
This time you can't play around
Don't let me find it all out, again

Love is a wicked game
Still we play it, still we play it
Love is a wicked game
Still we play it, still we play it

In another life
I'll kiss the days goodbye
And I'll carry on
There's more on the other side

My heart is aching (Mm)
I promised myself I wouldn't break it (Mm)
This time you can't play around (Oh-oh)
Don't let me find it all out, again

Love is a wicked game
Still we play it, still we play it
Love is a wicked game
Still we play it, still we play it
Love

Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out (Love)
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out (Love)
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
Don't let your love run out, don't let your love run out
