

Lucid Dreamer

Naomi Sharon

Where have you been all my life?
You are the color on black and white
Cover me with your touch
Never wanted anything so much
If you're not there

There's no luxury worth living
If you're not there, there's nothing worth giving
There's no luxury worth living
If you're not there

I bet everything on us
I bet
I bet everything on us
I bet, I bet

We can find it here
If we're dreaming then this is lucid
It feels so real
I'm hoping that we can align
I'm hoping you're not just a figment of my
'Cause if you're not there

There's no luxury worth living
If you're not there, there's nothing worth giving
There's no luxury worth living
If you're not there

I bet everything on us
I bet everything on us
I bet everything on us
I bet everything on us

I bet everything on us
I bet everything on us
