

Flashbacks

Našrot

Sometimes the sky is dark
But the rain doesn't come
Sometimes the sun shines
And you feel cold
I shiver in the night street
Pavement under my shoes
On the temple shadows creep
It's nothing to choose

When you're waiting for the night tram
I see a camera aimed at your face
There's no avoiding and people understand
Move slightly and you'll be in disgrace

When your brain goes against time
That's when flashbacks come
Then your thoughts turn on you
And you stay alone
Sins of mind relax my pain
When I go this old way
And my eyes look around
When I feel sad

When you're waiting for the night tram
I see a camera aimed at your face
There's no avoiding and people understand
Move slightly and you'll be in disgrace
Sometimes the way is shut like a closetdoor
Even when you try hard more & more
When your girl is crying for your words
Big camera's watchin' your every step and then...

I rave...
And Understand...
I'm in the rain...
I can never run from my mind

I try to see the world
In all colours and states
It's a child's kaleidoscope
More things in my head
Yesterday my girl said
Where it's good to hide
Yesterday I found the way
To her private heart

When you're waiting for the night tram
I see a camera aimed at your face
There's no avoiding and people understand
Move slightly and you'll be in disgrace
Sometimes the way is shut like a closetdoor
Even when you try hard more & more
When your girl is crying for your words
Big camera's watchin' your every step and then...

I rave...
And Understand...

I'm in the rain...
I can never run from my mind

I don't know, what's the reality
And what is a dream...