

Other Plans - Interlude

Nasty C

I just snapped back from a daydream
I just snapped back from a daydream
Where you and I made peace with
Had a good time talking over breakfast
Eye contact, and we said a lot in our heads
Missing each other in our beds

This shit cannot be real
How could I fumble so bad?
I don't even wanna know it's gonna happen
I know I want what we had
I had the world in my hands
Could've sworn I had plans
I had my dos and my don'ts
My wills and my can'ts

But, I guess, I just had another plan and another man for you
You deserve way better now, that's why I pass for ya
I'm working on me overtime, trying to be the perfect man for yo u
I just want to hear you say you think this thing is worth anothe r chance for you

I guess, I just had another plan and another man for you
