

This Morning It Was Summer

Nat King Cole

This morning it was summer
I remember long ago
A skylark on my shoulder told me so

This morning we were lovers
We were happy and we were gay
But now, love you are somewhere far away
You left me in the sunshine, now there is rain
Oh I tried so hard to find you
But all my searching was in vain

This evening it is winter
Yet my heart sounds this alarm
This morning it was summer in your arms
Yes I tried so hard to find you
But all my searching was in vain

This evening it is winter
Yet my heart sounds this alarm
This morning it was summer in your arms
Summer in, summer in your arms.
