

Watching You

Natalia Kills

I'm standing outside on your mama's lawn
And it's 5 A.M got your curtains drawn
Been 25 times that I called
But I know that you love me

Now I'm all dressed up
And I know that you're here, boy
It's just a little rain
No these ain't no tears
Every moment passed is
A thousand years since you loved me

And out of all the stupid boys I knew
I had to fall for you
And out of all the pretty lies you told
Can one of them be true?

When you wake up
I'll still believe you're mine, oh
I'm watching you sleep all night
With a stranger on my side
Oh, oh, I'm watching you
No, no, no, this is not the plan
If I can't have you
Then no one can
When you wake up
I'll still be here outside
I'm watching you

Happy hour ain't so happy
When you've got no friends
And who knew I'd find an angel
At the gates of hell
Your glass was always empty
But your bed was full when you loved me
You gave me back my key
But you still have my heart
Now all the dreams of you and me
And broken frames in your garbage
The other guys with their honest eyes
Just can't love me

And out of all the stupid boys I knew
I had to fall for you
And out of all the pretty lies you told
Can one of them be true?

When you wake up
I'll still believe you're mine, oh
I'm watching you sleep all night
With a stranger on my side
If I can't have you
Then no one can
When you wake up

I'm watching you

Loving you is like a chainsaw to my heart
We're both beautiful with every single scar
The words you promised
Laying on the backseat of your car
Like a bad, bad dream you leave me in the dark

When you wake up
I'm watching you sleep all night
With a stranger on my side
No, no, no, this is not the plan
If I can't have you
Then no one can
When you wake up
I'm watching you
