Natalie Jane

She looks so cute in your favorite sweater
But I promise you I would wear it better

I've been falling for a boy who's falling for a girl
He's giving her the world
That's supposed to be mine
He's looking in her eyes
Hands moving up her thighs
It makes me wanna die
That's supposed to be mine

That's supposed to be mine

(Her lips, her waist, her hips, her life)
That's supposed to be mine

You say you want her
She's what you like
But I wonder does she leave you satisfied

You take her places
That must be nice
You got me thinking I might be the jealous type

She looks so cute in your favorite sweater
But I promise you I would wear it better

I've been falling for a boy who's falling for a girl
He's giving her the world
That's supposed to be mine
He's looking in her eyes
Hands moving up her thighs
It makes me wanna die
That's supposed to be mine

That's supposed to be mine

(Her lips, her waist, her hips, her life)
That's supposed to be mine

Waist, thighs, supposed to be mine
Lips, eyes, supposed to be mine
Her life, supposed to be mine
That's supposed to be mine
That's supposed to be mine

I've been falling for a boy who's falling for a girl
He's giving her the world
That's supposed to be mine
He's looking in her eyes
Hands moving up her thighs
It makes me wanna die
That's supposed to be mine
That's supposed to be mine

(Her lips, her waist, her hips, her life)
That's supposed to be mine

That's supposed to be mine
