

The Fire

Natalie Prass

We're glints of light
Oh, we keep filling up the space
Between the branches and the sky
Oh, but you and I
We see no, nothing but the place
That leads us directly to the fire

Oh, this is now grief and joy
Elation, sadness, we're mend then destroy
A sparrow within all of the noise
But our imagination keeps leading us

Into the fire, oh, we go
Because it's the only place that we know
Oh, we will never be safe
Up and down, lost then found
Oh baby, baby, could you take me right
Into your fire

With awakened eyes we met
Never wanting to admit
That we for so long haven't slept
Mmm, I wanna feel it rise
All of our love
Oh, and for it I fight

Oh, my lost hands reaching out to touch
But my gesture won't phase
You can never get enough
Resurrection is within our clutch
But our imagination keeps leading us

Into the fire, oh, we go
Because it's the only place that we know
Oh, we will never be safe
Up and down, lost then found
Oh baby, baby, won't you take me right
Into your fire

Oh, but we could get higher
Ooh, every time I run
I just wanna run straight back
Into your fire
Oh, but we can't get higher
When I say I'm done
I just wanna run straight back

Into the fire, oh, we go
Because it's the only place that we know
Oh, we will never be safe
Up and down, lost then found
Oh baby, baby, won't you take me right
Into your fire
