

Run Away

Natalie Taylor

I've tried everything I can
To make you see what's right in front of your hands
And I can't fake it, it's taken everything just to make it
You force me out just like a fire
I just can't stand around, watching us burn down
And I, I can't control it, fight it, deal with it
I can't explain how much I'm through with this

Run away, far away from the arms of you
You're what I don't need, I've got too much to lose
Better days, nights awake, won't be because of you
I'll take my chances on somebody new
And I'll run away

What makes you feel more like a man?
Taking for granted all my love I gave so carelessly
And I, I take it back, you don't deserve me
I'll let you go, this time is easy

Run away, far away from the arms of you
You're what I don't need, I've got too much to lose
Better days, nights awake, won't be because of you
I'll take my chances on somebody new

And when you try to come around I won't be waiting
It's too late to miss me now
Living with regret and though my heart's not breaking
Can't nobody hold me down

I think I'll run away, far away from the arms of you
You're what I don't need, I've got too much to lose
Better days, nights awake, won't be because of you
I'll take my chances on somebody new
And I'll run away
And I'll run away

Run away, far away from the arms of you
You're what I don't need, I've got too much to lose
Better days, nights awake, won't be because of you
I'll take my chances on somebody new

Run away, far away from the arms of you
You're what I don't need, I've got too much to lose
Better days, nights awake, won't be because of you
I'll take my chances on somebody new
And I'll run away
I'll run away
