

Do You?

Natalie

You don't want to fight with me no more.
Tell me I'm not worth it, slam the door,
Threw my heart right in the trash,
Knew that this would never last,
You have someone else, I have the past.

Chorus

Do you feel my weight on your chest?
Do you stay awake with regret?
Do you miss my bruises on your neck?
Maybe they weren't mine but hers instead.
I hope these songs fill your head,
While you sleep in her bed,
I hope my sadness reaches out,
I hope it makes you sick with doubt.

Verse 2

Your friends painted me grey and cold,
But my heart is really made of gold,
These are some things that I cannot show,
Someone else tried to cover me stone.
Cover me stone...

I'm really made of gold...

I gave you my whole life,

And make my heart your home.

Your friends painted me grey and cold,

(Cover me stone)

But my heart is really made of gold,

(I'm really made of gold)

These are some things that I cannot show,

(I gave you my heart)

Someone else tried to cover me stone.

Chorus

Do you feel my weight on your chest?
Do you stay awake with regret?
Do you miss my bruises on your neck?
Maybe they weren't mine but hers instead.
I hope these songs fill your head,
While you sleep in her bed,
I hope my sadness reaches out,
I hope it makes you sick with doubt.

Outro

There's a piece of you in me,

It was short, it was short,

but it's deep

If this is a scar,

why does it bleed?

This was so deep,

You threw it away,

I hope that gave you peace...

I hope that gave you,

hope that gave you peace

Say you're not with her...

But she's the only one you see...

Say you're not with her...

But you keep ignoring me...
