

Goodbye Again

Nate Smith

I thought I'd seen your car parked in a parking lot
So, I rolled by real slow, and it wasn't you
Could've sworn I seen your face the other day
But I hate to say it was just my broke heart trying to prove

That every time I start thinking of you
No, I ain't really moved on

Hello, oh, goodbye, it happens to me all of the time
Yeah, your ghost keeps following me around like a thief in the night
Taking every bit of "gone" I had, like, is it really the end?
Before I knew it, it's got me outta my mind, saying
Hello to your goodbye again
Again

I thought I heard you say my name yesterday
Took a breath, turned around, found out it wasn't you
Thought I felt you last night by myself
Knowing good and damn well I'm only lying to

This missing you beating in my chest
Screaming in my head

Hello, oh, goodbye, it happens to me all of the time
Yeah, your ghost keeps following me around like a thief in the night
Taking every bit of "gone" I had, like, is it really the end?
Before I knew it, it's got me outta my mind, saying
Hello to your goodbye again

In and around every corner
Kinda wanna call up your number
No, I ain't getting no closer to closure

Hello, oh, goodbye, it happens to me all of the time
Yeah, your ghost keeps following me around like a thief in the night
Taking every bit of "gone" I had, like, is it really the end?
Before I knew it, it's got me outta my mind, saying
Hello to your goodbye again
