

Closer

Nathaniel Rateliff

When I was sick and lonely, what can admit it's cold Well I dreamed the sun was shining as I walked the drifts of snow don't let it pack on our only love you know

Wishing it was summer weather this slow pace
come on stop crying;
and wipe the ice from your face.
I don't mind the freeze as long as you're here to hold
This blanket of frost is going to melt, I know We know there's some summer breeze Watching over you and me in our bitter leaves, we'll be covered

We're closer now,
we're closer now,
than we ever been
We're closer now,
we're closer now,
than we ever been

where the thaw began
Can I face the wind That I'm standing in if I had a guess, it could only get so cold
You can sleep on a bench but maybe your just too old

Well in our frozen slumber its stillness and its grace
And I whispered of the spring
And the warmth upon your face
When it all starts to melt, you forget of the ice and snow
When waters rise, they carry you some place warm I forget our colder dreams, together and in our summer breeze, we'll recover

We're closer now,
we're closer now,
than we ever been
We're closer now,
we're closer now,
than we ever been,
We're closer now,
we're closer now,
than we ever been
