

Another day, another lesson
My mother gave me tons of blessings
Plus she raised me with much affection
I'm hungry guessing, I come for seconds
I like to question the lies they fed us
My life is just another life forever
I might just give up on the cypher
But never give up on my writtens
By the night, I'm better
I like the cheese and I like the cheddar
But having none don't make me feel lesser

Looking up to God, knowing who she take next
Feeling like Lebron, striving for greatness
Ain't no facade, blind to the hate man
I had to make peace on my own

Got a name full of S's, shit be difficult to spell Sittin' back, plottin', thinking how I'll give 'em hell (Drum h it)
Iron through the rain, sleet, and the hail
Wrote Navy in the snow, King Sunny on the hill

That's Gun Hill, really out the way
But I'm having fun still
You could see it in my face
Behind the smile you could read my pain

I was just a yute when I first taste spring
If you speak the truth, it could lead you to the way
Under the sun rays, many seekers in the shade
They will cover up and be afraid
But all we know is love and it keeps us sane

All we know is love and it keeps us sane
Yeah, all we know is love and it keeps us sane
All we know is love and it keeps us sane
Yeah, all we know is love and it keeps us sane
Love, love, love, all we know is love
Love, love, love, all we know is love
