

Know I'm blessed, angel in the flesh
I'm on this journey, and I don't know what's next for us
Know I'm blessed, I greet the angel in the flesh
Protect me on this journey cause...

I don't know what's next for us
Looking out my window, if we fall, hope the best for us

So I saw it coming, we soaring above your head
Hold the force in my hand
Source of the oppression, when they tearing up your land
I told you this the reason, please believe it, understand
In a couple days I'll be flying way to Japan
Tryna find ways to pretend
All about the benjamin, blind ways of a man
Time change with the wind, faces, changes within
All this pressure I'm holding in, it's similarities
Same faces is caring
And grew up next to that nigga and shook his hand
I wish the best for that nigga and see him off
And what you talk, trust it was wrong, ain't that the truth
Looking in the casket, I remember the suit

Holding back the tears is much harder to do
Tough for me, but much harder for you
