Man shit, I know
I know this shit be hard, bruh
I know life hard man
But man when you sad, bruh
When you down, nigga
Look down at your wrist, nigga

Reminiscent, listen up
Deficits of living once
Credit due where messes made
My petty ways are rather blunt, pass it up
Culminate my madness, not inadequate
One gather months
Temple up in flames
Who do I save? Who do I tell to jump?
Love go hand in hand with trust
Beneficiaries on this planet plan to manage us
If I could just put one in front the other
I'll be finding some, what's the summer done?
And what's the sum of all this damage done?
Who give a fuck? I do
Catch resentments, those who do not wanna live by my rules
If only everyone would play they part
It'd all be fine, true
That's a fuckin' lie, I put my pride aside
And dive through that ring of fire
Niggas tired, probably need some rest
'Cause I was deeply mired
I admire deeply those who teach me how to live
Desired, I acquire vanity
Insanity is repetition
Looking for an outcome that's much different than the last one
The devil is a liar
Times are dire as they ever will be
Overwhelming days is what my guilt breeds
I'm healing
The process is a topic where I feel free to speak on I'm looking for a shoulder I could lean on
I could lean on

I have tried to slowly own it
I despised my own opponent
Days were lost to grave emotions
I can't do this shit on my own
I have tried to slowly own it
I despised my own opponent
Days were lost to grave emotions
I can't do this shit on my own

I'll be headed home soon
It's there that I will hibernate
I don't wanna see nobody
I don't wanna see a face
That's the kinda thinking that be running through this weary brain
The very place that has my reason staked
It's such a shame
I'll be headed home soon

It's there that I will hibernate
I don't wanna see nobody
I don't wanna see a face
That's the kinda thinking that be running through this weary brain
The very place that has my reason staked
It's such a shame, ain't it?
It's like that, y'all

I have tried to slowly own it
I despised my own opponent
Days were lost to grave emotions
I can't do this shit on my own

Hey baby, why don't you steady your head?
