Beautiful, beautiful you are

You're the most important person in your life
So be yourself, be beautiful

You, who spent an exhausting day
To resemble someone else's life
If you're unhappy when you fall asleep
Even though you chase the dreams others dream for
You keep getting smaller, like clothes that don't fit
Don't give up, telling yourself that it's your fault, that this is it

Those stars that shine when the night falls
That sun that only leaves behind the sunset glow
They all have their unique colors
Beautiful, beautiful, yeah
Why is it that, when everything in the world takes its right place
It shines more beautifully?
You are enough just the way you are
Beautiful, beautiful you are

The despair of not having your own things
Made you envy somebody else

The things you own, others will never have, yeah
Come raise your head, look around
There are people who only look at you
A person receives a one-and-only love
And that person is you

Those stars that shine when the night falls
That sun that only leaves behind the sunset glow
They all have their unique colors
Beautiful, beautiful, yeah
Why is it that, when everything in the world takes its right place
It shines more beautifully?
You are enough just the way you are
Beautiful, beautiful you are

Listen to the sound of your heart shouting
There must have been moments where your heart pounded
Are you wandering, looking for happiness?
Listen to the sound of your heart more carefully
Start your own journey
Your own story of finding happiness
Don't forget to love even the smallest things

Beautiful life, beautiful heart
From the bright side of life, look at yourself with no shame
Even among the dimming of everyone's own light
Those rising targets
I hope you'll shine more and more brightly in your own color
This time you can face the rain
Next time you can beat the pain
No more tears will come again
Smiling, laughing to the end (Yeah)
Put your bags down
Hand me all your heavy thoughts
It's paused, time in a bottle
You can only see it when you look at yourself

Those stars that shine when the night falls
That sun that only leaves behind the sunset glow
They all have their unique colors
Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful
Why is it that, when everything in the world takes its right place
It shines more beautifully?
You are enough just the way you are
Beautiful, beautiful you are

Start anew and don't be afraid
Everything will be okay, so don't worry
That moment in which you believe in yourself, that moment will be
Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful
You are that person that's one-of-a-kind on earth
I'm waiting for the moment in which you'll light up the world
You are enough just the way you are
