Oh yeah

This is probably a dream
Just like my memories
You're right in front of me

It's strange
Even after a long time
My heart keeps repeating that day

When I close my eyes
My memories take me
To that place again

I should definitely tell you today
But I can't make a sound
I try to hold out my hand to touch you
But I can't

I endlessly practiced these words
I still love you
But in the end, I couldn't say it
I shouldn't let you go

I'm waking up from this dream that's like reality
Swallowing up another day that's like a nightmare

But which is real?
In my world without you
The only thing I have is to dream of you

When I close my eyes
My memories take me
To that place again

I should definitely stop today
But I can't avoid your eyes
I try to turn around and run away
But I can't

I endlessly told myself
Let's stop this now
But in the end, I can't stop
I shouldn't let you go

This nightmare (oh no no no)
This memory
Even if it tortures me
Even if it keeps repeating
I'm going back to this dream
Where I can meet you

At least for today
I can't just go
I'm stopping time
I'm turning back the memories

I endlessly dreamed
Of you saying, let's start again

In the end, if you say that to me
I would live in this dream

Oh yeah
I wouldn't wake up
