Do you think about me too?
Do you always cry? When it rains
When the pains come in shame
When the fame is a jade and I'm born to be made
But the cost of the fade I've got quickly to shade
Ever quickly to hate burning like a serenade
Burning like my hurricanes, when you said it was wrong
Even if there is a right
Now I can only dream about you holding me tight
Can you hold me tight?
