

Empty House

Neck Deep

I hope I feel it soon
I hope this day ends and I can start anew
Cuz all this doom and gloom
Is clouding me and I can't see past you

But what is it gonna take just to feel okay
When the light at the end of this is so far away?
Is it hope? Is it love? Is it time? Do we just need space?
Do we just need space?

I'm sitting in this empty house
Just trying to feel much better now
I'm just trying to feel much better now
I'm spinning and I'm fading out
Just trying to make this better now
I'm just trying to make this better now

The surface only proves
That I'm not good and I'm not good without you
The things that I consume
They consume me, perpetuate my mood

But what is it gonna take just to feel okay
When the light at the end of this is so far away?
Is it hope? Is it love? Do we talk? Is it therapy?
Cuz I got no love and I don't have much to say

I'm sitting in this empty house
Just trying to feel much better now
I'm just trying to feel much better now
I'm spinning and I'm fading out
Just trying to make this better now
I'm just trying to make this better now

I hope I feel it soon
I hope this day ends and I can start anew

I'm sitting in this empty house
Just trying to feel much better now
I'm just trying to feel much better now
I'm spinning and I'm fading out
Just trying to make this better now
I'm just trying to make this better now

But what can be said for a new day
When everything fucking hurts
There can be no other way
When I love you so
I love you so much

There can be no other way
When I love you so much
