

Moody Weirdo

Neck Deep

Inner child
Defensive trap
Fighting back your siege
Skinny cat
Hackles up
Biting hands that feed
A crying shame
A terrible waste
A hell of a way to save face
Inner child, it's okay, it's okay

You gotta take one small step every day
Don't fight the change
Just say what you have to say
Ride your own wave
Soak up the rain
Make way for the hurricane

Hollow man
Biting his pain
Throwing a fit
He can't sleep
The bullet train shakes the patience out of this waiting game
The seventh day of arguing with the kid in the picture frame
I'll take the blame
If you could hear this, I should say that

You gotta take one small step every day
Don't fight the change
Just say what you have to say
Ride your own wave
Soak up the rain
Make way for the hurricane
One step every day
Don't fight the change
Don't fight, don't fight it
Ride your own wave
Soak up the rain
Make way for the hurricane

I didn't think I was stupid
It was all in fear
And I don't think I can do this
Without you here
What would it take to erase all my mistakes and change your mind?
I don't think I can do this
But I think I have to

You gotta take one small step every day
Ride your own wave
One step every day

Ride your own wave

Make way for the hurricane
One step every day, don't fight the change
Don't fight, don't fight the change
