What's your opinion of the fact that you got 299 people on death row and you're not one of them because of a certain period of time and a supreme court decision?

Wake up goddamn it! Ain't you got enough sense to look at it? Supreme court was started when there was 13 million people in this country. You got 9 judges with 13 million people. You got 250 million people. How the hell you gonna take one of those to supreme court with 9 chicken shit mother fuckers and make a court out of them for 2 hundred million people. It's impossible man. Your government is a shell of madness that you're preaching off in schools. It's unreal. It's not real guy, It's a game!
