

Fade

Needtobreathe

For what it's worth, I am yours, and you are mine
I'm insecure when I'm with you, and that's all right
So take my life, and do with it what you will
And take my lungs, and make them rise so that I can feel

And all my instincts, they fade away
And I'm left here, standing in Your grace
So make me yours, make me yours today

For what it's worth, I don't know just what I could say
To make you see, I don't deserve the love you gave You rise inside, and see deepest part of me and find my needs
You're everything, the song that I sing, you're the air that I breathe
