

Sunshine

Needtobreathe

I hope we're asking questions 'til the day that we die
I know that age will make the answers less important with time
So when we find ourselves in wreckage like we did last night
I hope you're smiling in the morning, I hope you feel alright

Oh I know this life is crazy sometimes
Just cause we're guided by the light don't mean we'll make it every time
So why don't you try to hold your head up high
We need to find a joy tearing up this pride
Cause baby we're alright, right?
Right?

I, I wanna see you running through the field sometimes
I wanna see your eyes looking up through your hands to the sky
Tell 'em you feel alright, we're living in sunshine

The coast is never clear, all these ghosts are on time
I know we really never reach the end of any line
So when we find ourselves in wreckage like we did last night
I hope we're smiling in the morning, I hope we feel alright

I, I wanna see you running through the field sometimes
I wanna see your eyes looking up through your hands to the sky
Tell 'em you feel alright, we're living in sunshine

Oh I know this life is crazy sometimes
Just cause you're guided by the light don't mean you'll make it every time
So why don't we try to hold our heads up high
We could find a joy tearing up this pride
Cause baby, yeah baby, we're gonna be alright

I, I wanna see you running through the field sometimes
I wanna see your eyes looking up through your hands to the sky
Tell 'em you feel alright, we're living in sunshine
