See it anyone got my eyes got my face
Sing it everyone got my nose got my blood
Conscience plays upon me now
Safe until my luck runs out
Cukoos call, pendulum swings
I thought you knew everything
Lift my hands, make the cross

Sinner, I have never learned Beginner, I cannot return Forever, I must walk this earth like some forgotten soldier

These things, I should keep to myself But I feel somehow strangely compelled Under moonlight, I stood wild and naked Felt no shame just my spirit awakened

Sinner
Seein everything
Got my eyes got my face
Fireball drop from the sky
All my dreams have come to pass
Where's my faith, is it lost
Can't see it 'til you cast it off

Sinner, there is no such thing Beginner, I have learned to sing Forever, I must walk this earth like some forgotten soldier

Today, I am still disconnected To the face that I saw in the clouds And the closest I get to contentment Is when all of the barriers come down

These things I should keep to myself But I feel somehow strangely compelled And the closest I get to contentment Is when all of the barriers come down

Sinner
Sinner
Got my eyes, got my face
Seein anyone
Got my nose, got my blood
(I must walk this earth)
Seein anyone
Got my eyes, got my face
