Crack the Code

Nell

What is right and what is amiss
Who draws the line of truth and fallacy
Certainty fails and hope deceives
Who holds the gavel in this vast abyss

Crack the code
Free your soul and mind
Unleash the power and unlock the dark
Amid the scars and the silent cries, we'll find the strength hidden deep inside

But We don't have much longer
We don't have much longer, you know.
We don't have much longer
We don't have much longer, you know.

Now open up your eyes
Escape from all the lies
Don't let them hypnotize you

Stand tall and unconfined
Remember who you are
Don't let them mesmerize you

Through the storm, when fear tries to blind
In shadows' grip, when fate seems to decline
By starlight dreams will intertwine
And redesign what was so divine

But We don't have much longer
We don't have much longer, you know.
We don't have much longer
We don't have much longer, you know.

Now open up your eyes
Escape from all the lies
Don't let them hypnotize you

Stand tall and unconfined
Remember who you are
Don't let them mesmerize you

Now open up your eyes
Escape from all the lies
Don't let them hypnotize you

Stand tall and unconfined
Remember who you are
Don't let them mesmerize you

Shout it out, shout it out
We will make happen through the night
Shout it out, shout it out
We will make happen through the night
Shout it out, shout it out
We will make happen through the night
Shout it out, shout it out

We will make happen through the night
