

I Wish

Nelly

Why don't you call no more, I'm not sure
Thought you were the one for me
The only girl I adore, now you belong to someone else

Yeah, I wish that I just can rewind, take it back in time
A couple years too, when you were just a friend of mine
Around the time I started nodding that you was fine
The biggest nodes was to nodes why you wasn't mine
I recognize I'm in the stage girl, I admit it
Didn't see just what I had Shawty, I was tripping
If I told I'm a mess with, did that make a difference
I would have traded all my success for you in a minute, second
Probably roll your eyes when you get this message
Feeling like the homey when that nigga saying confessions
But this is my confession, I'm nothing girl without you
And if you take me back, I'll make it up in part 2
I wish I never let you go

Never let you go, you should know
I want you to come home, but you ain't got love for me
No love, no love, my baby
But now you belong to someone else

I hate the situation's different but my heart's the same
I hate the fact we gotta play these little stupid games
I hate the fact another nigga fucking my girl
I hate the fact another nigga fucking my girl
You see the past is the past, can we leave it there?
I put it all on the table, you need a chair
And tell your mama I still love her
And let her know I still look out for your brother, for you
And when I think about the things we used to do
Wishing I can rearrange time and start new
Time to start a sequel, we need a part 2
But you say in part 1 I didn't played my part, true
I know that's where I'm wrong, but don't let a few bad notes in a gre at song
And don't let all of these hating ass bitches tell you wrong
I'm a keep holding on till my life gone
I wish I never let you go

Never let you go, you should know
I want you to come home, but you ain't got love for me
No love, no love, my baby
But now you belong to someone else
Never let you go.
