

Did I put it on way too early?
Maybe I got too ahead of myself
Even though they always tried to hate me
I was so aware of how to hate myself

If you're wondering where I've been
Guess I'm not struggling

Ahh
Not holding on to what they're saying
Ahh
No longer on my knees and begging

I was always made the exception
Always seem to find a way to doubt myself
Was I even worthy of attention?
Always used to pray to be someone else

If you're wondering where I've been
Guess I'm not struggling
When the walls are caving in
They are paper thin
They are paper thin

Ahh
Not holding on to what they're saying
Ahh
No longer on my knees and begging

Never knew a heart could be misguided
Living in a world that's so divided

Don't cry
They won't love you till you learn to love yourself
They won't love you till you learn to love yourself
They won't love you till you learn to love yourself
They won't love you till you learn to love yourself
