

It's Over

Nemesea

I am waiting
I'm suffocating
I can't breathe
The pain stays too long
Yet I linger
And point my finger
The hard way
The urge to run is strong

Every time I close my eyes
Every time I try to hide
The panic builds up inside
All the things I left behind
Are taking over my own mind
I know it's over now

Sometimes I cannot remember
I played with open cards
I tried so hard to surrender
It's a shame

How come we cannot erase all the pain
Why aren't we strong enough to overcome
Undone, it's driving me mad and insane
Is there some other place where we belong?

And now I'm hating
And I'm creating
This nightmare
That goes on too long
Hanging on to
To what is untrue
I can't leave
The need to stay is strong

Every time I close my eyes
Every time I try to hide
The panic builds up inside
All the things I left behind
Are taking over my own mind
I know it's over now

Sometimes I cannot remember
I played with open cards
I tried so hard to surrender
It's a shame

How come we cannot erase all the pain
Why aren't we strong enough to overcome
Undone, it's driving me mad and insane
Is there some other place where we belong?

It's taking over me
I am too blind to see no oh
I'm on the edge about to take my final jump

I'm not in charge at all

The shade's too dark for me oh oh
I've crossed the border I'm about to fall
