

Save Me

Nemesea

Save me

Don't wake me up, don't shake this fragile state of mind
Praise my blind eye, I'm born to surrender, remained a pretender

I tried to drown, rolled over let the water in
But my demons taught me how to swim

No, I'm not asking you to save me, break me instead
No, I'm not hiding from my sorrow, it makes me forget
I'm the one to blame

Don't make it stop, I enlisted voluntarily
I'm on that rooftop
The lion went roaring, life got to boring

I must confess
I know your kind even your name
I'll ring that doorbell nonetheless

No, I'm not asking you to save me, break me instead
No, I'm not hiding from my sorrow, it makes me forget
I'm to blame

I know you, you're part of the game
Forgive me, 'cause we are the same
Yeah!

No, I'm not asking you to save me, break me instead
No, I'm not hiding from my sorrow, it makes me forget
I'm the one to blame
