

Love In The 21st Century

Neon Trees

Catch some breath.

I don't believe in a life without consequence.
Do you believe when I say that I'm not impressed?
You say, "I never, ever, ever wanna talk again."
I don't believe that you mean a single word you said.

Lines in the sand where we disagree
I think I wanna run away from you, you're killing me.
But I know I wanna see you in a day or two.
I don't believe that a single word you say is true.

I guess it's love
In the 21st century
Oh, oh it's tough
Broken heart technology
Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click "Delete"
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st century

I don't believe making out is a dead romance.
I miss the days being kids simply holding hands
I'm sick of wondering if you would ever call me back
I check my 4 different accounts just to end up mad.

Wish I could dissect your brain apart
It takes a vivisection just to understand your heart
If we could just own up, get wound up, messed up

I guess it's love
In the 21st century
Oh, oh it's tough
Broken heart technology
Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click "Delete"
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st century

Oh, it gets so critical
We become caught up in the trivial
My dear, we're both a bit too cynical
Come close, I'll give you something spiritual

Stand up and deliver me
We're in love in the 21st century

I guess it's love
In the 21st century
Oh, oh it's tough
Broken heart technology
Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click "Delete"
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st century

I'm in the 21st century

I'm in the 21st century

Your kisses taste so sweet
But then you click "Delete"
Love in the 21st century
I'm in the 21st century
