

Precious Now

NeraNature

If we don't live now then do we ever live?

Some will never let go of the past

Reliving the moments of life

Lose yourself in the moment

Live in the moment

The precious Now

This very moment is the only piece of time we really have

Stuck between the rocks of their identity

They're stranded behind

Stuck between the rocks with hundred reasons to stop living

Some will never let go of the past

Some live for the future

Always at full gallop

Waiting for something to happen

What if it never comes?
