Led Zeppelin Rules

Nerf Herder

I turn on my radio
And all the music sounds hollow
The first song they're playin' sucks
And the next one swallows

The singer is whinin'
And the drummer sounds bored
The guitar player's tone
Is like a Commodore 64

Don't settle for less
Don't suffer the fools, no
Don't give them your allowance money
Let's shout, 'Led Zeppelin rules,' yeah

I turn on my TV set
And I see the 'American Idol' show
And people are wonderin'
Why all the kids are suicidal

Well, Jessica and Britney and Paris and Ashley
Well, they look so pretty
Then you ask me if I like their music
Well, I didn't know that they had any

Don't listen to disco
Don't listen to punk, no
Don't listen to the men down under
And all that junk

Don't suffer the fools
Don't settle for less, no
Don't give them your allowance money
Let's shout, 'Led Zeppelin rules'

Hey, bro, check out the new Donut Boy song
I got for free on my cell phone, it's so rad
I'm not gonna listen to your stupid cell phone, check this out

Dude, what's that?
It's got real music on it, it's called a cassette tape
What? How many minutes do you hear with that thing?
Ninety
Woah

Don't settle for less
Don't suffer the fools, no
Don't give them your allowance money
Let's shout, 'Led Zeppelin rules'

Listen to disco
Don't listen to punk, no
Don't listen to the men down under
And all that junk

Don't suffer the fools
Don't settle for less, no

Don't give them your allowance money
Let's shout, 'Led Zeppelin rules'

Don't listen to disco
Don't listen to punk
Don't listen to junk
Don't listen to
Don't listen to ska
